REAL ESTATE & PROPERTY PARTNERSHIPS

Your Clients Are Crossing Borders. Their Money Shouldn't Cost Them the Deal.

Every cross-border property transaction carries a hidden cost that most agents never talk about — currency exchange. Whether your clients are buying in the US, selling in the UK, or developing across Canada and Mexico, the gap between the rate they expect and the rate they get can run into many thousands of dollars per deal.

FinXtra changes that. As a FinXtra Partner, you bring institutional-grade FX solutions to your clients — protecting their deposits, locking in purchase prices, and eliminating costly bank margins on international transfers. Your clients win. You earn.

THE CURRENCY PROBLEM IN REAL ESTATE

Every Cross-Border Deal Has a Hidden FX Cost.

Most real estate transactions involving international buyers, sellers, or developers are exposed to currency risk at multiple points — and most of the time, nobody is managing it. That's money left on the table. For your clients, and for YOU.

Deposits Lost to Bank Rates

Buyers converting funds through their bank lose Anywhere from 1–5% to hidden FX fees on every transaction — often without realizing it.

International Wire Delays

Bank-to-bank international transfers are slow, expensive, and opaque. Your clients deserve better — and faster. Ask us about how you can save in wire transfer fees with us.

When you partner with FinXtra, your clients get access to the same FX tools and advisory used by major corporations — with the personal touch of a dedicated advisor who gets to know their personal needs.
